The screenshot shows a Java code editor interface with the following details:

- File Bar: Current File ▾, AI Assistant, BookListBean.java (selected), BookListModel.java, booklist.html.
- Code Area: Displays the `BookListBean` class definition. The code includes package declaration, class definition, private fields, and four public getter and setter methods for `path`, `title`, and `description`. The code is annotated with usage counts (e.g., "no usages" or "2 usages").
- Status Bar: Shows the file path: > core > beans > BookListBean, and the file statistics: 3:27 CRLF UTF-8 4 spaces.

```
1 package com.myTraining.core.beans;
2
3 public class BookListBean {
4     private String path; 2 usages
5     private String title; 2 usages
6     private String description; 2 usages
7
8     public void setPath(String path) { no usages
9         this.path = path;
10    }
11
12    public void setTitle(String title) {
13        this.title = title;
14    }
15
16    public void setDescription(String description) {
17        this.description = description;
18    }
19
20    public String getPath() { no usages
21        return path;
22    }
23
24    public String getTitle() {
25        return title;
26    }
27}

A screenshot of a Java code editor interface, likely from Eclipse or a similar IDE. The current file is `BookListModel.java`. The code is as follows:

```
54 public class BookListModel {
55     protected void init() {
56         predicate.put("type", "cq:Page");
57
58         Query query = null;
59         try {
60             query = builder.createQuery(PredicateGroup.create(predicate), session);
61         } catch (Exception e) {
62             LOGGER.error(e);
63         }
64
65         bookListBeansArray=new ArrayList<BookListBean>();
66
67
68         SearchResult searchResult = query.getResult();
69
70         for (Hit hit : searchResult.getHits()) {
71
72             BookListBean bookListBean= new BookListBean();
73             String path = null;
74             try {
75                 path = hit.getPath();
76                 Resource bookResource = resourceResolver.getResource(path);
77                 Page bookPage = bookResource.adaptTo(Page.class);
78                 String title = bookPage.getTitle();
79             } catch (Exception e) {
80                 LOGGER.error(e);
81             }
82             bookListBeansArray.add(bookListBean);
83         }
84     }
85 }
```

The cursor is at line 63, position 10, under the closing brace of the `try` block. A tooltip is displayed, showing the fully qualified class name `QueryBuilder builder = resourceResolver.adaptTo(QueryBuilder.class)`. The tooltip also includes a small icon of a document with a question mark and the text `myTraining.core`.

At the bottom of the editor, the navigation bar shows `core > models > BookListModel > init`, and the status bar shows `63:10 CRLF UTF-8 4 spaces`.
